

Stephen Cauffman

- Research Engineer with the Community Resilience Program at NIST
- Served as the program manager for the World Trade Center Investigation
- Led NIST study of the performance of structures following Katrina and Rita
- Served as the Acting Chief of the Materials and Structure System Division and leader of the Structures Group